
HEART OF A COMPANION

Hey... don't you think you're being a little too hard?
And you don't think that asking for more than double the price we agreed on is a little too much?

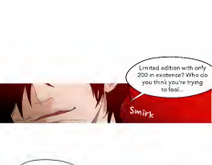
You... don't seem to know the rules around here...

RX-O UNICORN
Destroy Mode
Special Edition!
There are only 200 in existence, it's extremely rare!

So what do you think? There are only 5 in the country? Have you seen anything so precious?

Ha...

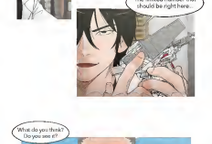
Limited edition with only 200 in existence? Who do you think you're trying to fool...
Smirk



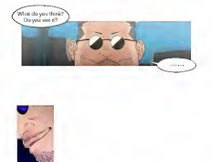
The special edition has pearl coating so it's a darker color and a better quality.
This is the normal edition that came out a month after the limited edition. There are 700 in that country alone.

It appears to be similar but the decrees limit is...
The limited number that should be right here...

What do you think? Do you see it?
Hmm...



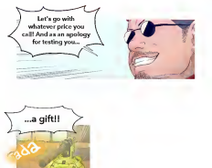
Yes, Jotaro!
Great~!! Such young talent. I've heard about you from the other sellers but I didn't know you were this good!
I like you!! You have the right to purchase my goods!!



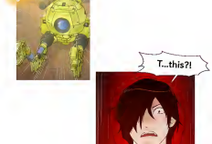
Let's go with whatever price you call! And as an apology for testing you...

...a gift!!
Ada
T...this?!

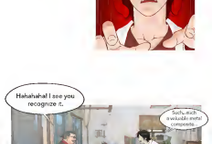
Hahahaha! I see you recognize it.
Such a exclusive item! I appreciate it!



I haven't met a customer that I've liked this much in a while.
The feeling's mutual.



Grab



Hmm...

Jackpot

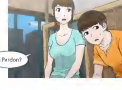
Hallelujah

Wow...
What did those idiots just...

Jingle

Excuse me~

~Ah...



Huh?
Our cat

She's finished receiving treatment and is resting inside

How is she? It's just an eye infection, right? It's not serious, right?
It's herpes
...Pardon?
It means she has the feline flu
But it's just the flu. Can it do that to her?
...just the flu?
There is no known cure for the flu for humans. Of course, for cats either.
But cats have weaker immune systems so if they're not treated, it can lead to further complications
The mortality rate associated with neglect is substantial. It's not just a matter of medicine.
Then... our cat...
It depends on how you take care of her from now on. If her immunity levels drop again, she'll suffer from a relapse
I wanted to ask...
Who... brought her home?
Being anxious in a foreign environment is extremely stressful
She was like when you brought her in again!
yes...

before you brought her home, did you consider that she might have a mother?
That there's a mother looking for her baby. How do you think she'd feel?
If it wasn't a cat but a human, it would be kidnapping... Of course, no one would think of it that way.
Wha...what are you saying?! It's just a cat!!
Be quiet, Kid. You're in the wrong.
You were excited to have a new animal in the house when your sister brought her home, right?
You weren't looking after her out of love or affection. Correct?
How ...
Raising a pet is not the same as getting a new toy.
Pets require great amounts of consistent care and attention.
And there's also a large financial investment that comes with raising one. Or, you have to take care of it.
People are confident they satisfy all these requirements, yet over a hundred thousand people are abandoned annually.
And she... has a mother.
You picked her up over the park, right? I'm sure her a few times so I remember her clearly. (This is a lie bad...)
I can't blame you to fall... love deeply, allowing her before you become too fond of her.
What? B...but...
Why...
Do you think she'll be happier living in a warm house with no worries about food than living with her mother? Do you really think you're doing the best for her?
That's unreasonable thinking from a human's perspective.
But... the treatment fees.
It's fine... just make sure the pet he vaccinates regularly, and she'll recover in around four days. Bring her back here around then.
Mmm...
We're going to go find her mother together.
Okay.
.....
Hey, Kid.
If you really want to have a pet, convince your mom first.
I'll introduce you to some extremely adorable fellas.
